THE AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME

THE AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME, begun in 1894 as the American School of Architecture in Rome, was founded in 1897 for Students of Architecture, Painting and Sculpture. In 1912, it united with the AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES IN ROME, retaining its title and organizing the two branches known as the SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS and the SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES.

THE SCHOOL OF FINE ARTS; GORHAM P. STEVENS, Director. Fellowships in Architecture, Sculpture, and Painting are awarded annually for a term of three years, and in Landscape Architecture every third year for a term of three years. The stipend of each fellowship is $1000.

THE SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES; CHARLES UPSON CLARK, Director. A Fellowship for one year with a stipend of $1000, is offered annually; a Fellowship for a term of two years, with the same annual stipend, biennially. All awards are made on competitions open to all unmarried citizens of the United States who comply with the regulations of the Academy.

C. GRANT LA FARGE,
101 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y.

AMERICAN SCHOOL AT ATHENS

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES AT ATHENS was founded by the Archaeological Institute of America in 1881. In 1886 it was organized as a corporation under the laws of the State of Massachusetts. It is in great measure supported by the coöperation of leading American Universities and Colleges. No charge for tuition is made to graduates of the supporting institutions. Two Fellowships, with a stipend of $800, are awarded on examination. Owing to the war the usual examinations will not be held in 1918, and no awards for the year 1918-1919 will be made. After the war it is expected that the former arrangements will be resumed. The library of the School contains nearly 6000 carefully selected volumes.

The Director of the School is Mr. B. H. HILL. Professor CHARLES FORSTER SMITH of the University of Wisconsin will hold the annual professorship when conditions abroad make it practicable for him to go to Greece.

For further information, address the Acting Chairman of the Managing Committee,

Professor EDWARD DELAVAN PERRY,
Columbia University, New York, N. Y.

AMERICAN SCHOOL IN JERUSALEM

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL OF ORIENTAL RESEARCH IN JERUSALEM was founded in 1900, and is affiliated with the Archaeological Institute of America. It is supported by a number of American Universities and Theological Seminaries and by private subscriptions. The School offers to properly qualified persons excellent opportunities for the study of the geography, archaeology, and history of Syria, and of the Semitic languages. No charge for tuition is made to graduates of the supporting institutions; other students are required to pay a fee of $25 per annum. A Fellowship, with a stipend of $800, is awarded annually on examination. The Director-elect of the School is Professor WILLIAM J. HINKE, of Auburn Theological Seminary. The Chairman of the Committee on Fellowships is Professor CHARLES C. TORREY, Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

SCHOOL OF AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY

THE SCHOOL OF AMERICAN ARCHAEOLOGY was founded by the Archaeological Institute of America in 1907, to conduct the researches of the Institute in the American field, direct the expeditions of the branch Societies, and afford opportunities for field work and training to students of archaeology and ethnology. Expeditions for the excavation of ancient American ruins are sent out from time to time. Students of archaeology and ethnology will be admitted to expeditions on satisfying the Director as to qualifications for the work proposed. Terms of admission will be furnished on application.

The Central American Fellowship with a stipend of $600 is awarded annually. Other Fellowships are to be established as soon as funds are secured for their maintenance. The School coöperates in research with the Bureau of American Ethnology and with universities and scientific organizations, both home and foreign. Correspondence is invited with reference to such collaboration in either field or archive work in American subjects.
